

“Australia is a great place to have a crack and build a business. Scott Farquhar and I know this—we built a global business with over 6,000 employees from our home in Sydney.

But to do that we’ve relied on amazing, talented people from around the world. Many of those people who joined Atlassian from overseas have gone on to work for other great Aussie companies. Some of them have even founded their own companies, here in Australia!

The Australian Government helps us and other companies to bring in awesome people through initiatives like the Global Talent Visa Program. This is critical for Aussie companies to compete on the international stage and to build a critical mass of skilled people in our country.

Australia is my home and an incredible place to live. During the Global COVID-19 pandemic, we’ve had a quality of life that has been the envy of the rest of the world. I want more of the world’s best and brightest to experience just how awesome it is.”
